

The Solomon Lecture

Trust and Transparency
Ken Smith

24 September 2018

Level 41, 1 William Street Brisbane

11:00 am to 12:30 pm

Free event

Register at <https://solomonlecture.eventbrite.com.au>

Professor Ken Smith, Chief Executive and Dean of the Australian and New Zealand School of Government, will deliver this year's lecture on 'Trust and Transparency'.

During the lecture, Professor Smith will explore how open, transparent government is threatened from a range of ideological extremes. Those who constantly question our liberal democracy and its values, including fundamental human rights and the rule of law, neither value good government nor vital elements of it, such as Right to Information legislation. Important reforms like this ensure public institutions are open, accountable and deliver institutional integrity, as well as uphold valid community expectations of the standards by which all public officers need to be judged.

Mr Peter McKay, Deputy Commissioner, Public Service Commission, Queensland, will also speak at the event.

You can also live stream the lecture at www.oic.qld.gov.au/rtiday2018

RIGHT 28 September 2018
INFORMATION
DAY
Trust and Transparency

Office of the Information Commissioner Queensland

ipc

information
and privacy commission
new south wales

oic.qld.gov.au/rtiday2018